

Gospel Thinking, Gospel Living

Titus 3:1-8

October 18, 2026 | Pastor Joe

The gospel changes the way we see ourselves and the way we treat others. In Titus 3:1–8, Paul reminds us where we came from, what God has done for us through Jesus, and how His grace should shape the way we live in the world.

1. Why is it sometimes easier to see other people's faults than to remember our own?

LOOKING AT GOD'S WORD

Read Titus 3:1–8 together in the NIV.

2. What does Paul tell believers to remember about how they should live and relate to others?
3. What does Paul tell us to remember about who we once were before God's kindness and mercy changed us?
4. What does this passage say God has done for us? What words does Paul use to describe His motivation and His work?

DIGGING DEEPER

5. Why do you think Paul tells believers to remember who they once were before describing how they should treat others?
6. What is the difference between being saved because of what we have done and being saved because of God's mercy?
7. How should remembering God's mercy toward us affect the way we respond to people who are difficult, different, or far from God?

LIVING IT OUT

8. Where are you most tempted to forget God's mercy toward you when dealing with other people?
9. What would it look like for God's grace to change the way you respond to someone who frustrates you this week?
10. What truth from Titus 3:1–8 do you most need to remember this week?
